

the 1990s, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Foundation 1999).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of people with mental health problems, and the importance of providing them with appropriate services. The Mental Health Act 1983 was amended in 1996 to give more power to local authorities to commission services for people with mental health problems. The Mental Health Act 1996 also introduced the concept of 'mental health care plans' for people with mental health problems, which are designed to ensure that their needs are met in a coordinated way.

Homecoming

A wood gathering contest (the Seniors won);
imaginatively decorated hallways stemming from a poster contest (the Sophomores won);

a super great bonfire to fire up the team
and fans alike,

then the big event — the game;

defeat was overshadowed by the crowning of the lovely queen, Robin Whitaker; the Homecoming Dance topped off an eventful, exciting week.

Dracula

The house lights dimmed and the curtains slowly drew open to present DRACULA, the first play ever performed in the KV auditorium.

Many weeks of hard work were spent prior to the performance. Lines and blocking were learned, costumes fitted, and make-up was designed to go with each character. This meant changing Dracula's (Jeff DeBoer) blond hair to black. Beards and moustaches also had to be made for Van-Helsing (George Grevenstuck) and Dr. Seward (John Tillema). The artistic make-up transformed them into entirely different people.

The leading female part was played by Susie Nordstrom with her devoted fiancee Jonathon (Mike Hopkins) always at her side. All members of the cast played their characters beautifully.

Although DRACULA was meant to be a serious drama, some of the younger people in the audience thought a few parts to be extremely funny such as the maniac (Ed Tillema) howling on the stage, and the maid (Joan Kingma: slapping Butterworth (Butch Jungles)).

DRACULA was under the direction of Carole Womelsdorff. The combination of her coaching and the cast's hard work, made KV's first play a tremendous success.

Future Farmers of America

Including the greenhand newcomer and chapter star farmer the FFA is one of the most active clubs in school. Throughout the school year activities are planned such as turkey shoots, slave auctions, contests, conventions, camps, color guards, and banquets. 1972 was a colorful and busy year for the FFA.

Wrestling

The KV grapplers finish better their second year. The feeling of accomplishment after a pin. A close knit team with a lot of self-pride. The feeling of anxiety after being pinned.

The overall exhausted feeling after a meet.

Ken Peregrine and John Jungles placed in the Midwest and Northwest conference meets, while the team placed 4th of 7 in the sectional.

K. V. Round Ball Players

They were a team to be proud of.

They turned on the K.V. students in the middle of the school year.

Their teamwork astounded all who attended K.V. games.

Their moves were executed with such precision they even surprised themselves.

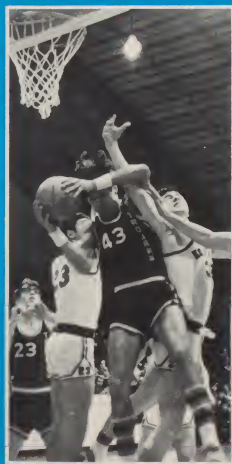

For most of their games they had it together.

Even our short men could get the rebounds.

This team attracted spectators like they were going out of style. If you missed this team, you really missed a winner.

F.F.A. Chapter Sweetheart

A group of young men inclined toward agriculture. The chapter is inspired by the presence of a lovely young lady chosen to act as sweetheart. The night of truth; the nervous candidates clutch to the arm of their escort. They proceed to the center of the gym floor. The master of ceremonies rips open the envelope containing the name of the new sweetheart. One joyful heart and three disappointed ones. The new sweetheart is crowned and presented a dozen roses and now is officially a member of the chapter until a new sweetheart is selected.

National Honor Society breaks with tradition

In the past it has been the tradition for the NHS to visit a college and other places of interest. This year they broke that tradition. Because of too little time, money, and interest they were unable to continue the tradition.

Every year induction is held for all students who meet the requirements. This year the NHS inducted the largest group in its history.

Knowledge, leadership, scholarship, service, and character combined to make up the foundation for the organization. To be a member, a student must maintain a B average participate in two extra-curricular activities, and remain in the good graces of the teachers.

Office Girls

Mr. Wayne F. Ryska was the man behind everything at KV. His door was always open to students who needed help and advice, and what advice, honest and forceful. When he wanted to be heard, he certainly didn't need an intercom. His satirical nature made for lively office work. How is one to know when he is really being facetious? One doesn't, and that was just one of the ways that Mr. Ryska helped give life and variety to KV.

The learning of logic . . .

A unique independent study class that included everything from Algebra I to Trigonometry . . .

Mr. Gross' "12 x 12" that equals 145 .

"May all math students remember to bring a drink of water back for Mr. Abbring" . . .

A very competitive Math Contest which was the highlight of the year . . .

These are a few of the things that made math a fun and profitable learning experience.

From candles to bunsen burners

A variety of new equipment allows for a wider spectrum of experiments . . .

An escape from the normal classroom routine .

A newly discovered enthusiasm in the science students

The desire to work with their hands . . .

The untapped minds of excited students . . .

There are some of the resources used to make the department the mind tingling experience it is.

Sunshine.

The Drunkard

In late April, the Drunkard was staged with a style of acting that over-exaggerated in order to recreated melodrama as it would have been performed in the late 1800's.

The cast became involved with their acting, learning new gestures that would sometimes send everyone into hysterics. Between scenery changes entertainment was provided by a barbershop sextet and a few other singers.

The scenery extended itself into the auditorium. Banners of red, white, and blue were draped over the doorways and along the walls.

The audience got right into the spirit of the play. They would boo the villian and applaud the hero. The musical background also helped to achieve the desired response from the audience.

Precious and Few

A beautiful starlit night,
flowers, elegance, a super-good band,
an excellent tasty meal,
Nervous young men in their "crummy
feeling" "good looking" tuxedos.
"Shall we dance?" — sore feet — a long night
Beautiful young ladies in satin and lace.
Couples walking around the grounds,
Intermission: Movie flicks from the 30's
Guys in blue jeans — pool playing in the backroom.
"Is that band ever going to come?" C.W.
Where did everyone go after 12?
These made a memorable Prom night.

The End, The Beginning,

The beginning of the end,
The end of the beginning;
Mixed emotions of sadness,
gladness, relief;
Inspiring speeches that could be heard by some,
A melting upper-deck audience;

And your name is called, and you
move slowly, steadily toward the platform,
you shakily (almost) trip up the steps,
you receive your diploma, cameras snap —
what a moment,
You hurry slightly back to your place,
That's it, it's all over."

Seniors

Living for their leaving,
but not wanting to go.
Learning for living,
and maturing themselves.
Seniors are special.
They laugh, cry, sympathize;
but you can tell by the look
in their eyes,
they don't want to go.

COLONEL FRANK BORMAN'S MESSAGE TO THE SCHOOLCHILD- REN OF INDIANA

"I would like several things I would do," he said, "if I could relive my youthful days. Perhaps they will help you.

"(1) I would do everything in my capability to continue my education on through high school and preferably college. Those doors (to career opportunities) won't open any more without diplomas. You must have a good background.

"(2) I would be patriotic. I would have a sense of duty to my country, to my school, to my city, and to my State. I think it is extremely important that we keep this sense of being proud to be an American. I hope you all have it, and I hope you never lose it.

"(3) I would be religious. This sometimes seems to be out-of-date ... But I hope that all of you continue your religion. I hope that none of you ever feels ashamed to have and to profess a basic belief in God. This is important.

"(4) The next thing I would do is make sure I have a sense of honor. I would be honest with my fellow Americans, with my fellow students, with my teachers, and I would be honest with myself. These basic virtues have not grown obsolete.

"(5) I think this is something often overlooked, but I would have a sense of pride in myself. I would keep myself neat. I would be very proud to be a citizen of this wonderful country."

The End

1972 was a year of surprising and not so surprising events. We have tried to capture the activities of the 1971-72 school year. A special thanks goes to the staff who worked on the yearbook, Dan Koenig, advisor; Doris Myers for designing the cover; Ted Walberg, photographer; Seldon Marquardt, American Yearbook representative; and Virginnia VanKeppel who did most of the layouts. Without these people the KOUGAR PRIDE would not have been possible.
